Brewery, beer garden: 'very close' to a lease

Proposal from former principal at 'Brew It Up!' would put new life on South River Road

One of the first things into the re-purposed "Pioneer Bluffs" area of West Sacramento may be a brewery and beer garden from a principal at the former "Brew It Up!" restaurant in downtown Sacramento. Mike Costello, the former president, general manager and CEO at that establishment, said last week his current group is "very close" to signing a lease on South River Road.

Costello aims to create a "regional draw," saying "we're really excited about being able to fill in the gap for casual, family-friendly dining."

He declined to specify the exact site under negotiations, but acknowledged it is on South River Road, south of the Pioneer Bridge freeway overpass, and not directly on the water.

"It's huge – more than 20,000 square feet," he added, saying the site will likely be home to other tenants including, possibly, a farmers' market and a coffee roaster. Those tenants, too, could come in quickly.

"Our goal is to be brewing in four months, and have the pub fully outfitted in six months," said Costello. "It's on the Pioneer Bluffs, so its name will have something to do with Pioneer Bluffs."

Those bluffs are most notable where the deep water ship canal currently severs South River Road. But the City of West Sacramento is now proceeding on a long-planned new bridge to connect South River Road across this canal, linking the city's eastern riverfront from Southport to the freeway and Bridge District. The new brewery and commercial center could be the first major tenant in as the "Pioneer Bluffs" begin an expected transition from older industrial uses to a more urban, riverfront style.

What is on tap, so to speak, at the new establishment?

"There will be a beer garden and outdoor event space," said Costello. "There will be a personal brewery (where customers can make their own beer). That's one of the things that sets this brewery. . . . apart from every other craft brewer in Northern California. It creates a fun relationship with customers."

"Brew It Up!" went out of business in 2011 after about eight years in Sacramento and about seven previous years in Davis. Costello said there were some lessons learned, and there will be adjustments to the business plan.

"The big, glaring mistake we made. . . was to walk in on day one with two much debt," he said. "We also had a lease structure that started out all right, but over the years increased as most leases do."

The economy also took a toll, and the menu probably overreached.

"Conceptually, one of some of the things we realized we probably should have changed was to tighten the menu, tighten the focus," he said.

"This will be a much tighter-focused menu. . . really creative and tasty hot sandwiches, and a good set of entrée salads, and a great set of appetizers that will go well with beer. We'll tighten up the wine menu and the liquor menu. The focus will be on the beer side."

"There will be about 30-36 taps, with maybe 20 or two dozen of our own (beers) and a great selection of guest taps."

"Our target is to produce about 1,200 barrels a year in the first year," said Costello. That's 37,200 gallons, at 31 gallons per

Firefighters from several area agencies are training in ladder-use, hoses, rescue and search missions at a house on 506 B Street in West Sacramento this week.

Participants include firefighters from West Sacramento, Davis, UC Davis, Woodland and the Yocha Dehe reservation. They are training together partly because these departments routinely back each other up and "need to be on the same page," a West Sacramento fire official told the News-Ledger.

The B Street home will not be burned down during the training.

The ladder truck from Station 45 on Lake Washington Boulevard responded on June 21 to what neighbor David Vanrijn reports as a rooftop fire involving some solar panels. The fire was quickly contained.

Fireworks sales kick off this Friday at noon

Sales of "safe and sane" fireworks in West Sacramento legally begin at approved booths at noon on Friday. The sales are permitted through the Fourth of July holiday. Except for the shortened hours (noon to 10 p.m.) on the first day, booths are allowed to be open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily during that period.

Actual use of the fireworks is legal from noon on Friday (July 28) through noon on July 6.

Various charities entered the annual raffle to win a permit to sell fireworks in the city this Independence Day season. The winners, and their planned booth locations, are:

-- West Sacramento Little League will operate a booth near Papa Murphy's Pizza, Lake Washington and Jefferson boulevards in Southport.

-- Campus Life Connection/ Collings West Sacramento Teen Center will be in front of Safeway.

-- Joy Christian Ministries will be outside Wal-Mart.

-- The West Sacramento Christmas Basket Project will be at Jefferson Plaza.

-- West Sacramento Community Singers will have a booth near Walgreens and La Bou.

-- The West Sacramento Historical Society will be at the Southport Town Center.

-- The West Sacramento Rotary will sell fireworks near Whitey's Jolly Kone near Jefferson and 15th Street.

-- River City Rowing Club will be in front of Arteaga's Supermarket on Sacramento Avenue at Kegle Drive.

Each group will have a license to work with a fireworks wholeseller, and will get to keep some of the proceeds from the "safe and sane" fireworks.

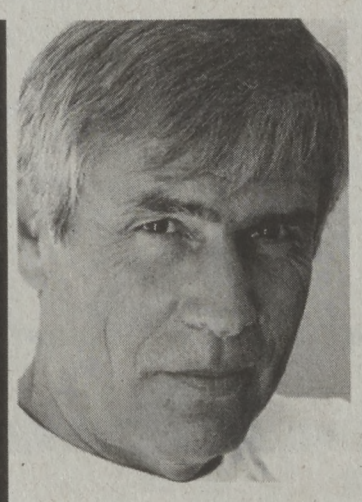
Are men 'pervs'? I have a theory about that

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

I was recently standing outside my house talking to a longtime friend when a man in his 40s or 50s strolled by with his dog and said hi to us. I said hi back, returned his smile, and didn't think anything more of it. It seemed to me that it was just one of those typical friendly neighborhood encounters people have all the time when someone is out walking their dog. My friend, on the other hand, saw it much differently!

"Did you see that?" she asked me, her face scrunched up in disgust.

"See what?" I asked, not knowing what she was talking about.

"That guy just leered at me."

"Leered at you?"

"That's right, and I just hate it when men do that!"

"Well, I did notice that he looked at you, but isn't leer a pretty strong word for what he did?"

"Why do you men do that?" asked my friend, obviously still angry at what had just happened to her. "Don't men ever figure out how much women hate it when you leer at us? And it starts out really early in our lives, too. In fact, when I first got my boobs in high school I spent four long years walking around carrying books in front of my chest that I didn't even need to read."

"I actually have a little theory about all that," I cautiously ventured.

"You have a theory about what?" she asked me, looking back with a hateful glare at the man with his dog as they turned the corner and stepped out of sight.

"I have a theory about why men look at women," I said. "You want to hear it?"

"No."

"Oh, come on. It may even change your mind about the whole thing. You see, the fact that men can't help themselves when it comes to looking at women is actually God's fault, and not a character flaw."

"What are you talking about?"

"I'm talking about how most men get a bad rap because of something they basically can't do anything about. Looking at women is in our DNA. We can't help it. And it's the way God wanted it."

"So, you're going to blame the whole thing on God, hey?"

"Absolutely! To begin with, what do you think God's number one priority was when he started playing around with the idea of Adam and Eve?"

"I don't have a clue," my friend assured me, "other than maybe wanting us to live a good life with a companion and end up in heaven, where thankfully there won't be any pervs looking at me all the time!"

"Wrong!" I exclaimed. "God's number one priority was for us human beings to keep having lots of healthy babies so that this fantastic species he created can go on forever!"

"To begin with," said my friend, obviously eager to rip a big hole in my theory, "aren't you getting God and Mother Nature all mixed up? And what do either one of them have to do with most men being a bunch of sick looky-loos?"

"Look," I tried to explain as scientifically as I could, "in order for the human species to continue to grow and get better and stronger and healthier with each new generation, men have to keep finding the very best female specimens of our species to mate with, and we do that with the eyes God gave us for that very specific purpose. In other words, if men weren't always looking at women and trying to discern if they are the perfect mating partner for them, the human species would be in a real big hurt real soon!"

"Look," said my friend, kindly trying not to totally throw my theory into the trash, "I agree that it's only natural for men to check out women now and then, since us women do the same thing to men. In fact, I haven't spent a small fortune on clothes over the years just to have men ignore me. But they don't have to leer at us and get us all creeped out in the process.

'Wrong!' I exclaimed. 'God's number-one priority was for us human beings to keep having lots of healthy babies so that this fantastic species he created can go on forever!'

And since not all men are constantly doing it, your theory that they all have to do it doesn't hold water. Thankfully not all men are looky-loos!"

"Oh yes we are!" I said. "And the only real difference is that some of us are just a lot more tactful when we do it than others are. And it never ends by the way. One of my grandfathers lived to almost be a hundred years old and he was still checking out his nurses in the old folk's home until the day he died."

"That is sick!"

"No it's not. It's just God or Mother Nature or both of them, hand-in-hand, doing what is best for the human species."

"Good grief, Daryl, the next thing I know you'll be telling me that the reason so many men trade their wives in for a younger model is God's fault, too."

"You want to hear my theory about that?"

"Absolutely not!"

GUEST COMMENTARY:

A taste of West Sac's Portuguese past

FROM THE SAN PEDRO ASSOCIATION

If you grew up in the "Bryte" or "Broderick" neighborhoods of West Sacramento, or old "West Sacramento," then you probably remember the "Portuguese Picnic" that was celebrated the last weekend of June, with its parade through the streets of town filled with queens wearing big tiaras and floats representing saints, along Portuguese folk music and the calls from the bingo stand. You could smell the barbeque beef on a spit that people cooked themselves and the linguica sandwiches and beans. You could get all these along with cold beer at the bar.

This year, the San Pedro Festa will be open to the public on Saturday, June 29 from 3 to 8pm and on Sunday, June 30th from 11am to 8pm. There will be the same great marinated beef on a spit (carne espita), linguica sandwiches, tremose (brined beans) and sweet bread will be available as in years gone by.

Free live entertainment will be available headlined by the Bay Area sensation and Luso-American artist Ramana Vieria and her ensemble, who will perform Saturday evening from 6-8pm. Earlier in the evening you can catch the fun sounds of the ACC Pocket Pickers Ukulele Group at 4:30pm.

Saturday evening will also feature the crowning of this year's queens. Nieve Kelly, daughter of Cathy Ingram-Kelly and Eamon Kelly, will represent San Pedro as the senior queen. Kaitlyn Clopton, daughter of Jason and Tiffany Freitas, will be the baby queen.

barrel. The new brewery will focus on on-site sales at first, because that's where the higher profit margins are.

Special events and outdoor events will be stressed – and some of those could even begin within the next few months, said Costello.

"Of course we're going to do Brew Fest, also Oktoberfest," he commented. "One of the other ideas we have is to do a huge pumpkin carving festival. And we could start doing some food trucks and festivals on the site as soon as we get the lease, just to draw attention."

About a dozen investors are involved, reports Costello, adding that his role will be that of an employee.

At "Brew It Up!," said Castillo, "I was president, C.E.O., general manager and all that. Basically, this time around, I'll be general manager. I'll have a front house manager, a kitchen manager. I'll be involved in the brewing, but there will be a team of brewers."

The year 2013 seems to be a big one for beer brewing in West Sacramento. Sacramento's Rubicon Brewing is opening a production facility near Ikea, and a couple of "nano-breweries" called Jackrabbit and Bike Dog plan to open up near Industrial Boulevard and the port.

Costello believes this growth is partly because of brewery-friendly zoning laws in West Sacramento. It may be easier to navigate the red tape here than it is across the river, he said.

The brewery appears to be landing in this city after a regional site search.

"Over the last year and a half, we've been looking at dozens of sites downtown (Sacramento), eastern Sacramento and in West Sacramento," he reported.

"As I talk to other businesses. . . there is definitely a sense of West Sacramento being more attuned to start-ups in the beverage industries," said Costello. "The zoning changes they made here really make it simple for a star-up brewery, or even an existing brewery, to do business."

"I wouldn't be surprised if there are two or three more on our heels that decide to land over here, which is going to make this city alone a real destination for beer tourists."

FESTIVAL from p. 2

Both of these young ladies' families are descendants of the San Pedro Association founding fathers.

Sunday's entertainment will include the procession from Holy Cross Church to the park beginning after mass at 10:30 a.m. Grand Marshals of the procession will be Al & Marie Balshor, longstanding supporters and members for the San Pedro Association. Included in the procession will be the Sacramento Youth Band, who will also perform during the day at the Park and the Rancho Folclorico Vira Virou de Newark Maderian Folk Dancers. A silent auction, live auction, bingo (run by the Knights of Columbus), baked goodies from the Holy Spirit Altar Society and kiddie games will also be a part of this day.

2013 marks the 91st annual San Pedro Festa. Descendants from the original families and the founders of the established San Pedro Association have been continuing the annual celebration – with the exception of a break during WWII.

San Pedro Festa has been a part of the community since 1992 when immigrants from the Madeira Island, Portugal settled in the Riverbank/Bryte area in what is now northern West Sacramento celebrated their first "Festas Padroeiras" (folk celebration) – which honored their patron saint St. Peter. They celebrated on the banks of the Sacramento River.

These early families had names like Amaral, Andrade, Augustino, Beata, Carvalho, Cardoza, Costa, Enos, Farinha, Frates, Freitas, Fonseca, Gonsalves, Jardim, Lawrence, Lopes, Neves, Neto, Paulo, Pena, Perreira, Perry, Pinto, Ramos, Rodrigues, Santos, Sardine, Sequeira and Silva. They would come together to celebrate their Saints Day. These Festas, or festivals, provided a family event with each subsequent generation bringing their children, to continue to celebrate and reaffirm their cultural heritage.

In the 1940s, the group organized an association and purchased land from the Silva family to establish San Pedro Association and build San Pedro Park. This association's primary focus since the 1980 is to maintain its presence in the community and preserve the historic San Pedro Park. During this time a membership was established.

This new generation of members – descendants from original families in the area – decided once more to open San Pedro Festa and it's park to the public. The park is located at 708 North Hobson Avenue, West Sacramento.

Assessed value of city, county property edges over 20 billion

Yolo County's property tax roll was valued at over $20 billion for the first time since 2008, reports Assessor Joel Butler.

"The improving real estate market and thriving agricultural economy, coupled with new construction and changes of ownership (which trigger reappraisal) increased this year's roll to $20,475,478,048 of taxable value – a 4.16 percent increase over the prior year," said a statement from Butler's office.

"All areas of the county experienced increases in assessed value," added the tax assessor's statement. "Davis had the largest increase for a city at 5.75 percent; Woodland had the least, at 1.88 percent; with Winters at 3.85 percent and West Sacramento at 3.83 percent. The unincorporated areas of Yolo County grew by 4.58 percent, reflecting the strength of rural and agricultural properties."

Recently assessed property values will be available for public view by July 12 at http://www.yolocounty.org/index.aspx?page=1603. To find your property value, have your Assessor Parcel Number or street address available. If you don't have computer access, you can phone for your valuation at (530) 666-8135 (the assessor's office is closed Friday's for budget reasons).

There is a process available for those who believe their property is over-valued for tax reasons.

There was an abandoned 911 call from a Del Monte Street juice business – the source of dozens of such erroneous calls in recent weeks.

June 19, 1:49 p.m.
Police were dispatched to the 800-block of Harbor after a complaint about a man harassing and yelling at market customers. Before they arrived, the man apparently threw a metal coffee canister at another man. The victim reportedly lost consciousness and was now light-headed.

The victim and a witness ID'd the suspect for officers. He was a 30-year old male transient. An officer noted that the metal canister was "full of ice, and heavy," and that it "it had a dent on the bottom."

The victim said that dent came from his head.

The suspect was arrested.

June 19, 5:37 p.m.
A man from Kelseyville, California, reported his parked car had been burglarized while in an Ikea Court parking lot.

June 19, 10:30 p.m.
A police officer contacted a 21-year old man – who then disposed of a Sig Arms 9 mm handgun by slipping it into a nearby planter box. The man gave the officer a false name. He was later ID'd and confirmed to be a wanted "parolee at large."

A search turned up ammo in his pants pocket matching the handgun. The subject was identified as a known gang member. He was arrested.

June 20, 8:17 a.m.
Reported from 11th and Park: "subject stealing recycling and throwing trash all over the street as he digs."

June 20, 10:30 a.m.
On Reed Avenue: "CHP Academy will be doing smoke grenade training that will put out a large amount of smoke in the area."

A West Capitol supermarket reported there was a shoplifter in the store, "not in custody, but standing on the inside of the store, waiting for a chance to bolt outside."

June 20, 3:37 p.m.
Near a Harbor Pointe Place gas station was a woman in a red car, "throwing things at passers-by. . . condiment packages and other such sundry items."

June 20, 3:45 p.m.
Three juveniles were detained by a citizen for stealing lumber from a Highland Drive site. They were "cooperative."

June 20, 4:32 p.m.
A woman reported she was being harassed by unknown neighbors on Evergreen Avenue. Last night, "unknown subjects (put) lubricating oil on all the handles of her property and vehicle."

June 20, 5:06 p.m.
A Fourness Drive woman reported she had been the victim of a scam.

The scammer phoned her, claiming to be with the security department of a popular software operating system. They claimed that "illegal activity" had occurred on her computer's internet address, and they "needed to get in to fix it."

The subjects "got into the computer and have now disabled the computer. . . They will not release control or make it function again until she pays some money."

The woman had some phone number and contact information for the suspects, who apparently called from British Columbia. She feared they had gained access to her banking information.

June 20, 5:24 p.m.
Car versus bike accident at Jefferson and South River Road; injury reported.

June 20, 5:37 p.m.

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS
BY SAM STRUCKHOFF

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"Admission" (PG-13) -- Tina Fey and Paul Rudd star in this dramedy about college admissions and taking chances and boring audiences. Fey plays Portia, a Princeton admissions officer who lives life by the book and avoids risk. Things kick off when she gets back in contact with John (Rudd), an old friend who runs an alternative school. John introduces Portia to an oddball teen named Jeremiah. He would be a perfect fit for Princeton ... oh, and he might be the son Portia gave up for adoption 16 years ago.

With just a few chuckles here and a couple sighs there, it's not much for drama or comedy. The pacing and one-dimensional characters make all things charming come out annoying.

"Temptation: Confessions of a Marriage Counselor" (PG-13) -- In twists and turns, this film explores the allure of forbidden love and human desires to reach a certain moral conclusion: Adultery is bad, you guys. Judith (Jurnee Smollett-Bell) is a career-minded young woman working at a matchmaking business. She gets pulled into the seductive web of Harley (Robbie Jones), a handsome billionaire who flaunts his wealth in the usual ways.

Saoirse Ronan in "The Host"

With a million warnings and reasons she should have known better, Judith still makes her mistakes and takes her punishment for them. Arguably, this punishment includes starring alongside Kim Kardashian. If you can handle a little bit of soap opera and a lot of moralizing, you might be enticed by this temptation.

"The Host" (PG-13) -- In the near-ish future, little body-snatching aliens take over Earth. One of these critters crawls into the back of your neck, next thing you know, you've got silver eyes and a robotic monotone voice. Now, imagine that this premise was used to make a "Twilight"-style supernatural young-adult thriller -- and it was engineered in a high-tech lab to be the most boring thing ever. That's what you get from "The Host," roughly 90-minutes of a teenage girl talking to a snotty alien living in her brain. Eventually, she kisses a hunky young lad in the rain. You'll miss that part because you'll be asleep.

"Spring Breakers" (R) -- To fight off boredom, four college girls (Selene Gomez, Vanessa Hudgens, Ashley Benson, Rachel Korine) play around with a little bit of armed robbery so they can afford a spring-break vacation in sunny Florida. Once on the beach, the girls get into their bikinis, and then it's off to more crime. They become entangled with a clownish rapper named Alien (James Franco, really pushing it here). Alien seems like a bit of edgy, jokish fun, but turns out to be a real-deal drug-dealing criminal.

"Who Was Dracula? Bram Stoker's Trail of Blood"
by Jim Steinmeyer
(Tarcher/Penguins, $26.95)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

It is ironic that a rather dull Victorian writer is responsible for creating one of literature's most recognizable and enduring characters.

Bram Stoker was born in Dublin in 1847. After studying law and science, he partnered with actor Henry Irving in 1878 to run London's Lyceum Theater. He might have remained in obscurity if it hadn't been for a classic horror tale he completed in 1897 -- "Dracula." Stoker immersed himself in the customs, history and folklore of Middle Europe, focusing especially on the 15-century ruler Vlad the Impaler. His intense work provided a certain authenticity for the book.

According to author Jim Steinmeyer, many readers have short-changed themselves by reading only the first and last parts of the novel, skipping the bloodless middle. As a result, we only get part of the story. The Dracula most of us are familiar with is due largely to a London play that was transferred to Broadway in the 1920s and eventually given the Hollywood treatment in the iconic film starring Bela Lugosi. Dracula is a much more complex character, and Stoker's novel even stranger and more horrifying than what was portrayed in film.

Steinmeyer concludes that Stoker drew from a handful of people in his circle -- including Irving, playwright Oscar Wilde and poet Walt Whitman -- to flesh out Dracula. Even Whitby village in Yorkshire, where his family vacationed, is included as a pivotal backdrop.

Irving's tastes for the dramatic and his fondness for haunted, dark characters was especially inspirational for Stoker, and Steinmeyer even reveals that he was influenced by Jack the Ripper. These characters were the composite elements that helped form his character of Dracula.

Drawing on the notes of Stoker as well as the letters and archives of other Victorian elite, Steinmeyer brings into focus the people and places that shaped Dracula, revealing that the novel is much more complex and multi-layered than it first appears.

Red, White and Blueberries!

Americans celebrate July 4th, also known as Independence Day, often without knowing the fascinating history about how this celebration came into being.

"Taxation without representation!" That was the battle cry of the 13 colonies in America that were forced to pay taxes to England's King George III with no representation in Parliament. As dissatisfaction grew, British troops were sent in to quell any signs of rebellion, and repeated attempts by the colonists to resolve the crisis without war proved fruitless.

On June 11, 1776, the colonies' Second Continental Congress, meeting in Philadelphia, formed a committee to draft a document that would formally sever ties with Great Britain. The committee included Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman and Robert R. Livingston. Jefferson, who was considered the strongest and most eloquent writer, crafted the document. (Nevertheless, a total of 86 changes were made to his draft.) The Continental Congress officially adopted the final version on July 4.

The following day, copies of the Declaration of Independence were distributed, and on July 6, "The Pennsylvania Evening Post" became the first newspaper to print the extraordinary document. The Declaration of Independence has since become our nation's most cherished symbol of liberty. On July 8, 1776, the first public readings of the Declaration were held in Philadelphia's Independence Square to the ringing of bells and band music. One year later, on July 4, 1777, Philadelphia marked Independence Day by adjourning Congress and celebrating with bonfires, bells and fireworks.

The custom eventually spread to other cities and towns, where the day was marked with processions, oratory, picnics, contests, games, military displays and fireworks. Observations throughout the nation became even more common at the end of the War of 1812 with Great Britain.

Congress established Independence Day as a holiday in 1870, and in 1938 Congress reaffirmed it as a holiday, but with full pay for federal employees. Today, communities across the nation mark this major midsummer holiday with parades, firework displays, picnics and the playing of the "The Star-Spangled Banner" and marches by John Philip Sousa.

Invite this delicious Red, White and Blueberry Cheesecake to your Independence Day holiday as we celebrate the wonderful history of this great country!

RED, WHITE AND BLUEBERRY CHEESECAKE

2 cups halved, pitted, sour or sweet cherries, fresh or frozen (thawed, drained; see Note below)
2 cups blueberries, fresh or frozen
3/4 cups granulated sugar or sugar substitute, divided
1/4 cup water, plus 4 teaspoons
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice
1/2 box (14-ounce) graham crackers
1/2 cup chopped walnuts, toasted
1/3 cup canola oil or melted butter
2 packages (8 ounces each) reduced-fat cream cheese (Neufchetel), softened
2 cups nonfat vanilla Greek yogurt
6 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

1. Set aside 6 or 8 cherries and 6 or 8 blueberries for garnish. Combine remaining cherries and blueberries, 1/2 cup sugar or sugar substitute, 1/4 cup water and the lemon juice in a large saucepan and bring to a boil. Combine cornstarch with 4 teaspoons water, then stir into the berry mixture; return to a boil. Reduce heat to medium and cook, stirring constantly, until the liquid thickens and looks syrupy, about 1 minute. Remove from heat.

2. Process graham crackers in a food processor until finely ground. Add walnuts and pulse until finely chopped. Transfer to bowl; stir in remaining 1/4 cup sugar or sugar substitute. Drizzle with oil or butter and stir to combine. Press into bottom of a 9- by 13-inch baking dish. Place cherries and blueberries that were set aside for garnish on top of the graham cracker crust.

3. Beat cream cheese, yogurt, confectioners' sugar and vanilla in a medium bowl with an electric mixer until smooth, scraping down the sides as necessary. Spread over the berries and crust. Spoon the cooked berry mixture over top. Cover and refrigerate until cold, about 3 hours.

N OTES: To pit fresh cherries: A hand-held cherry pitter is the right tool for the job, and it also works for olives! Or pry out the pit with the tip of a knife or vegetable peeler.

To toast walnuts: Cook in a small, dry skillet over medium-low heat, stirring constantly, until fragrant and lightly browned, 2 to 4 minutes.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Web site address listed below for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case file number. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Gary R. Merwin in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Gary R. Merwin be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE TO ADOPT A MITIGATED NEGATIVE DECLARATION

A Mitigated Negative Declaration has been prepared for the Ramco Enterprises Ground Lease Agreement for 1781 and 1871 South River Road. This Mitigated Negative Declaration has been prepared to address the potential environmental impacts of a proposed ground lease for two parcels currently owned by the City of West Sacramento. The subject properties are currently being used as outdoor storage for pre-stressed concrete building materials. The proposed ground lease would allow the continuation of this use for a maximum of two years and would also allow approximately two acres of the project site to be improved for off-street employee parking. The Mitigated Negative Declaration concludes that with the implementation of recommended mitigation measures there will be no significant adverse impacts on the environment.

Copies of the Mitigated Negative Declaration are on file in the office of the West Sacramento Community Development Department at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, CA 95691 (telephone: 916/617-4645).

Any affected or interested parties may appear at the July 17, 2013, City Council meeting and comment on the Mitigated Negative Declaration and/or the proposed project.

The West Sacramento City Council will consider adoption of the Mitigated Negative Declaration on July 17, 2013, in the City Council chambers located at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento, CA, 95691 at 7:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE TS No. 13-0003514 Doc ID #0002108736682005N Title Order No. 130043073 Investor/Insurer No. APN No. 014-373-008 YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST, DATED 10/09/2009. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. Notice is hereby given that RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A., as duly appointed trustee pursuant to the Deed of Trust executed by JOSEPH F HENTER, AN UNMARRIED MAN, dated 10/09/2009 and recorded 10/21/2009, as Instrument No. 2009-0033186-00, in Book N/A, Page N/A, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Yolo County, State of California, will sell on 07/15/2013 at 1:00PM, Ramada Inn and Suites, 1250 Halyard Drive, West Sacramento, CA, 95691, Captain Ballroom at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash or check as described below, payable in full at time of sale, all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust, in the property situated in said County and State and as more fully described in the above referenced Deed of Trust. The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 1051 ROGERS ST, WEST SACRAMENTO, CA, 956052001. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. The total amount of the unpaid balance with interest thereon of the obligation secured by the property to be sold plus reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is $184,654.60. It is possible that at the time of sale the opening bid may be less than the total indebtedness due. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept cashier's checks drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state. Said sale will be made, in an "AS IS" condition, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust, advances thereunder, with interest as provided, and the unpaid principal of the Note secured by said Deed of Trust with interest thereon as provided in said Note, plus fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on a property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 1-800-281-8219 or visit this Internet Web site www.recontrustco.com, using the file number assigned to this case TS No. 13-0003514. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale.
